

We offer different types of education grants for professional development and nursing student grants

Our grants can support your educational and professional development so that you can have a longer-lasting impact.

As a member of the nursing team, you know that patients rely on you to help them understand what they are going through. Doing some extra training can help you to support patients and increase their trust in you and your skills.

Of course, it takes investment to do this and the RCN Foundation can help – because you deserve to be supported too.

Whether you are established in your nursing career or just starting out, RCN Foundation offers a range of education grants for nurses, midwives, nursing support workers, and those aspiring towards a career in nursing. Find out how an education and career development grant from the RCN Foundation can help you and your patients. Jane and Sukdeep share their experiences of applying for funding.
